Sports Medicine Institute Ground Breaking

The Ohio State University broke ground on The Jameson Crane Sports Medicine Institute on Wednesday, October 8, 2014. The facility’s future home will be at the corner of Ackerman Road and Fred Taylor Drive.

The Jameson Crane Sports Medicine Institute will be the future home of the largest and most comprehensive dedicated sports medicine facility in the country. The state-of-the-art facility will house 15 interdisciplinary specialties, 160 sports medicine faculty and staff, and four research and performance labs. The Jameson Crane Sports Medicine Institute is expected to be completed in early 2016.

Participants at the ground breaking event included Ohio State University President Dr. Michael Drake; Dr. Steven Gabbe, CEO of The Ohio State University Wexner Medical Center; Dr. Christopher Kaeding, Executive Director of OSU Sports Medicine; Dr. Timothy Hewett, Director of the Sports Health and Performance Institute; and Mr. Jim Crane. OSU Sports Medicine faculty members were in attendance, along with 20 members of the Crane family and former Ohio State and WNBA basketball star Katie Smith.
