Managing Chronic Pancreatitis: a Patient-Oriented Symposium to Discuss the Management of Symptoms and Complications

September 20, 2014
8:00 AM – 12:30 PM

8:00-8:15 Registration and continental breakfast

8:15-8:30 Welcome and introduction
  Phil Hart, MD
  Medical Director, Section of Pancreatic Disorders
  Division of Gastroenterology, Hepatology, and Nutrition

Session #1
8:30-8:45 How did I get this disease? The epidemiology of chronic pancreatitis
  Darwin L. Conwell, MD, MS
  Division Director
  Division of Gastroenterology, Hepatology, and Nutrition

8:45-9:00 Why can’t I eat fat? Nutritional therapy for patients with chronic pancreatitis
  Marcia Nahikian-Nelms, PhD, RD, LD, CNSC
  Director, Dietetic Internship, Medical Dietetics
  School of Health and Rehabilitation Sciences

9:00-9:15 How should I take my pancreas enzymes? Managing exocrine pancreatic insufficiency
  Stephanie Jones, CNP
  Pancreas Clinic Nurse Practitioner, Section of Pancreatic Disorders
  Division of Gastroenterology, Hepatology, and Nutrition

9:15-9:30 Session #1 Panel (participants ask questions to speakers)

9:30-9:45 Break

Session #2
9:45-10:00 How can I get pain relief? Pain management in chronic pancreatitis
  Darwin L. Conwell, MD, MS

10:00-10:15 Will an endoscopic procedure help me? The role of endoscopy
  Som Krishna, MBBS, MPH
  Director of Clinical Research, Advanced Endoscopy
  Division of Gastroenterology, Hepatology, and Nutrition
Session #2 con’t

10:15-10:35  What am I to do with my chronic pancreatitis? Perspectives from a patient
Dan Spracklen
State of Ohio Chair
National Pancreas Foundation

10:35-10:50  Session #2 Panel

10:50-11:00  Break

Session #3

11:00-11:15  Am I ready for an operation? The role of surgery in chronic pancreatitis
Mary Dillhoff, MD
Pancreatic Surgery
Department of Surgical Oncology

11:15-11:30  Do I really need my pancreas to survive? The role of total pancreatectomy
Pete Muscarella, MD
Pancreatic Surgery
Department of General Surgery

11:30-11:40  How can Ohio State University help me? The value of a multidisciplinary Pancreas center
Phil Hart, MD

11:40-11:50  Session #3 Panel

11:50-12:00  Conclusion and participant feedback

12:00-12:30  National Pancreas Foundation information session (lunch is provided)
Dan Spracklen

12:30  Adjourn

Note: Please view the patient educational materials provided in the hallway

We would like to thank the following sponsors for their support of this educational event:

Abbvie, Inc
Digestive Care, Inc
National Pancreas Foundation