

2017 OSU Amiens
Perforator Flap Conference

		Date
		August 25, 2017 (Friday)	August 26, 2017 (Saturday)
7:00	OSU Main Campus	Registration, Breakfast and Vendors JP Hong Keynote Lecture "The evolution in soft tissue coverage for chronic osteomyelitis and diabetic using supermicrosurgery coverage" M Saint-Cyr, R Sinna What is and what is not a 'Propeller Flap': Lets use a standardized classification system	Registration, Breakfast and Vendors Sinna, M Mateev, R Yu, JP Hong and Masia Perforator Flap Reconstruction in Large Volume Centers: How do we make this an effective marketing tool? Panel
8:00	Cadaver Lab
9:00		Break	Break
10:00		Break	Break
10:30		R Yu, J Masia, M Mateev "What kinds of perforator flaps are reliable, and I do always, - and which are treacherous, difficult and why" P Cadenalli, "Wait a minute - the ALT Flap is the workhorse yet again?"	M Matee, P Nthumba, M Saint-Cyr and R Sinna Money Matters: Perforator propeller flaps vs free flaps in context of Economic Disparities US and the World.
11:30		Lunch and Exhibits	Lunch and Exhibits
12:45		*S Tintle "Are bone defects still only treated with fibula flaps? How else may we restore bone and composite defects" Souza, Military Reconstruction (Panel)	Sinna, JP, Yu, Ian, Nthumba, Mateev Image Issues: What Preop Perforator Identification methods do I use, and which I don't, and why. Postoperative Monitoring: Do I need to by expensive toys?
1:45		JP Hong and R Yu Perforator flaps in the obese: thin suprafascial plane-dissection to the rescue	Chandawarkar, Valerio, JP, Sinna,Dean, Miller Where we go from here? Functionalize flaps/ Cosmetic applications/Nerve flaps/3D printing?
2:45		Break	Final Remarks
3:15		T Schoeller, P Nthumba, "The utility of perforator flaps in a low-resource setting"
4:15		Closing Remarks
6:15pm		Amien's Reception
	End Cadaver Lab		